

ChefMama Bio

Traveling the world with and through food Chef Tiffany Williams Affectionally known as ChefMama has crafted her talents to caterer for A list celebrities and VIP Clients, providing an Exquisite Experience everywhere she goes.

For the past 20 years, Chef Tiffany has had her hand in practically all aspects of the restaurant industry, which has led to working and leading a vast array of kitchens ranging from corporate to fine dining, offsite and backstage catering. She has had the honor of working as a Lead Chef for President Obama's 2nd term fundraiser dinner as well as various presidential events. She has prepared exquisite dining experiences as Executive Chef - Backstage Catering for some of the biggest names and events in entertainment such as Beyonce, Jay-Z, Chance The Rapper, Justin Beiber, Cold Play, The Rolling Stones, Red Hot Chili Peppers, Snoop Dogg, and Lollapalooza in her hometown of Chicago and globally as a concert chef.

In addition to raising three children as a single mother, in June of 2017 Tiffany created Exquisite Catering & Events. She noticed that while she enjoyed the vibrant taste from around the world that there was a lack of catering companies that delivered international cuisine on the South Side of Chicago. Exquisite Catering & Events caters to Private Events, Corporate Events, Festivals, Movie sets, and Backstage Catering. Exquisite Catering & Events provides a vast array of menus from Breakfast, Lunch, Plated Dinners and Private Dinners. Exquisite Catering & Events is known for its elaborate set ups, extravagant service and its ever-popular small bites. ChefMama continues to climb in the industry making sure she gives back as she is given by teaching inspiring culinary students, providing resources for restaurateurs and creating space for entrepreneurs like herself to grow and flourish in the hospitality industry.

Bio Fun

Jet-setting across the globe with nothing but a passion for food, Chef Tiffany Williams, aka Chef Mama, is the culinary maestro behind some seriously star-studded meals. For the past two decades, she's been the secret ingredient in kitchens ranging from corporate to fine dining, bringing her magic to events that are nothing short of legendary.

Picture this: Tiffany leading the charge as the Lead Chef for President Obama's swanky second-term fundraiser dinner, and whipping up culinary delights for the likes of Beyonce, Jay-Z, Chance The Rapper, Justin Bieber, and more. From backstage catering for global sensations to rocking the culinary scene at Lollapalooza in her hometown of Chicago, Chef Mama has done it all with style.

But the real fun began in June 2017 when Tiffany rolled out Exquisite Catering & Events. Why? Because she noticed the South Side of Chicago was missing out on a world of flavors. Now, she's the go-to for Private Events, Corporate Shindigs, Festivals, Movie Sets, and Backstage Catering. Expect everything from mouthwatering breakfasts to fancy plated dinners and private dining experiences that are the stuff of dreams.

Exquisite Catering & Events isn't just about the food – it's about the whole shebang. Tiffany's setups are as elaborate as her menus, the service is downright extravagant, and don't even get us started on those bite-sized wonders that everyone can't get enough of.

And did we mention she's a superhero single mom to three kids? Yep, while conquering the culinary world, she's also giving back. Tiffany's busy inspiring future culinary rockstars, throwing resources at fellow restaurateurs, and making space for other go-getters in the hospitality biz to shine.

So, if you're looking for a culinary adventure that's as lively as Tiffany herself, Exquisite Catering & Events is your ticket to a world of fun, flavor, and fantastic foodie memories! Chef Mama is turning every event into a party you won't forget.
